Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 1-14 are objected to because of the following informalities: Claims 1-14 should be checked for proper punctuation. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 and 6-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kituka 4,592,612. Kituka discloses a cable connector comprising a cover 30 and at least one connecting means 40 for electrically connecting said shielding and said cover 30, characterized by a holder 20 for at least one connecting/pressure means 40 adapted to develop contact pressure between said connecting means and said cover.

Regarding claim 2, wherein said holder 20 comprises means 22 for accommodating at least one of said pressure means.

Regarding claim 3, wherein said connecting means 40 comprises a ferrule 40,40 and said holder 20 comprises a recess 22 for holding the ferrule 40,40.

Regarding claim 4, said ferrule comprises an inner ferrule (40) and an outer ferrule (40) and said shielding of said cables is at least partially sandwiched between said inner ferrule and said outer ferrule.

Regarding claim 6, said holder is adapted to lock said outer ferrule in said holder.

Art Unit: 2833

Regarding claim 7, said contact pressure is developed between said outer ferrule and said cover.

Regarding claim 8, wherein said holder 20 comprises at least one opening at 21 to allow electrical contact between said outer ferrule and said cover.

Regarding claim 9, wherein said pressure means 40 comprises at least one flexible clip.

Regarding claim 10, wherein said holder is comprised of at least two releasable parts at least one of said parts being adapted for accommodating said pressure means.

Regarding claim 11, said pressure means 40 is adapted to simultaneously develop contact pressure between said cover and at least a first and a second connecting means.

Regarding claim 12, Kituka discloses ferrule holder 20 comprising a recess 22.

Regarding claim 13, said ferrule holder comprises an opening (not numbered, housing cavity).

Regarding claim 14, the method of assembling the device is not germane to the issues of patentability of the device itself. Therefore, this limitation has been given little patentable weight.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kituka. Kituka discloses the invention substantially as claimed. Kituka discloses the ferrules being clamped not crimped. However, crimping is well known in the art and therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to crimp the ferrules for the purpose of electrical connection as a alternate method of connection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
